

Designers' Top Color Trends for 2021

Considering Freshening your Color Scheme?

With every new year comes a wave of new design trends—including newly in-demand and on-trend colors. As we ride our way into spring thus begins the age old task of spring cleaning. We dust off the cobwebs and go through all those boxes in the garage. As you clean and re-arrange your home, you may begin to wonder how to freshen up your home décor.

What, Exactly, are Those Trendy Colors for 2021?

A recent article from realtor.com outlined top designers' predictions for the biggest color trends of 2021, including:

- Earth tones. Cool gray and “greige” have been go-to neutrals for some time. But in 2021, expect those cool tones to take a backseat to warmer, earthier colors, which feel more safe, cozy, and inviting.
- Ocean blue. Serene colors are a go-to for bedroom design—and in 2021, the most serene of colors? Ocean blue. Try painting the walls of your bedroom a light blue that echoes the ocean—or, for something more subtle, try incorporating it into your bedding or accents.
- Textured wallpaper. Color doesn't have to come from paint. In 2021, expect to see textured wallpaper—with pops of color—to gain in popularity. Try using a textured wallpaper to add personality and visual interest to a smaller space, like a powder room.

Check This Out!

Sherwin Williams crowned Urbane Bronze 2021's color of the year. It can easily be accented with other natural tones from burlap to green flora and fauna accents. This earth tone couples well with wrought iron, steel and other stone shades that you may already have in your home.

Let the ocean blue and texture spice up your private spaces like bedrooms and bathrooms while complimenting the cozy yet elegant welcome of the Urbane Bronze's darker earth tones.

Ready to Make a Bigger Change?

Contact our local team TODAY if you need a contractor referral or are considering selling your home this spring!

Osgood Team Real Estate

5-Star Google Rating

www.osgoodteam.com

303.810.5757

