

If These Walls Could Speak – Wall Decor adds charm to homes

It's often said that our homes tell the story of who we are. It's a personal touch we put into each room as we create our sanctuary and turn four walls into a home we treasure.

I recently sold a home that had wonderful phrases on the walls. Much to my surprise they weren't stenciled or painted on, they were vinyl! It turns out vinyl designs are a great decorating solution when you want to transform a space quickly, easily and without a mess. I just purchased some designs as gifts from Elizabeth Townsend of Simply Said who shared just how versatile vinyl can be.

An interior designer recently shared that vinyl is one of her favorite "go to" solutions when a client has multiple spaces to decorate and a budget. Vinyl designs for the walls can be customized, come in hundreds of designs and a size to fit virtually any space and don't take special tools, training or nails to install. Adding to the appeal is the flexibility you have when it's time to update a room whether it's refreshing your look or update that kiddo's room to a "tween's" space, the original design comes down without a fuss and you're ready to apply your new design.

Walls are just the beginning. Designs can be applied to virtually any surface without special equipment. We have applied designs to tiles, wood, stone, brick, glass, wallpaper, metal, cars, furniture, and curved surfaces... The only limitation is your imagination!

If you'd like to check out the designs for yourself, visit Elizabeth's site at www.mysimplysaidesigns.com/morethanwords. I had a little fun checking it all out myself.