

Music Lovers Won't Want to Miss the Lineup at the 2015 Parker Days Festival

With three stages in full action, you're sure to find entertainment you can really tap your foot to at the 2015 Parker Days festival June 11 – 14 in downtown Parker.

The Main Stage has an incredible schedule of groups that begin Thursday night with the Rick Springfield/FACE concert, a ticketed event. If you're too young to know Springfield's music, you'll probably like the opening act – FACE, an all vocal rock group from Boulder that has appeared on NBC's "The Sing Off" and begins playing at 7 p.m.

While the Thursday night event requires tickets, the entertainment for the rest of the weekend is free – as is tradition.

The Main Stage has the most notable groups with 20 hours of amazing music provided by the likes of That 80s Band, Guild of Ages, Tunisia and The Long Run. But there are two other stages that will feature all sorts of acts. The PACE Stage at Pikes Peak will feature performers sponsored by the PACE Center, while the Community Stage will spotlight more than 100 young artists from around the Parker area.

To help you schedule your weekend, here's the lineup on the three stages.
