In the realm of impactful initiatives, Treasure House of Hope stands out as a beacon for individuals facing homelessness, addiction, domestic violence, human trafficking, and despair. Their one-year, Christ-centered discipleship program is a transformative journey designed to guide participants towards a renewed life.

Treasure House of Hope operates as a 501(c)3 non-profit organization, providing a Christ-centered discipleship program for those in desperate need of change. Their mission is to help individuals suffering from substance abuse, violence, and mental health issues by housing and training them for a year, all at no cost. The focus is on instilling sound decision-making based on biblical principles, leading to a changed life and, ultimately, family restoration.

that, no problem! This project, hosted at Mile High Commissary in Aurora, welcomes volunteers aged 16 and above. The organization encourages participation and support from the community, fostering a sense of collective responsibility.
